

Author: Ade

London locations, current and forgotten, that have heavy herb/herbal history.

1. Food, Drink and Exercise, 217 Uxbridge Road

Great food, classy joint, selling booze and exercise as well.

Notes:

2. The Geffrye Museum, 136 Kingsland Road

The museum of living rooms and classic English design/furniture

Notes:

3. What no Vicar?, Bishop's Avenue, Hammersmith and Fulham

You don't actually have to be a Bishop to come here!

Notes:

4. Time to get Physic in Chelsea, 66 Royal Hospital Road

A 'Secret Garden' founded in 1673

Notes:

5. Kew Gardens, Kew, Richmond

Londons largest botanical and mycological collection.

Notes:

6. The Medicinal Garden, 1-11 St Andrews Place and Peto Place

This is the remarkable Royal College of Physician's herb garden

Notes: