

Author: HCS Shannon

When the stereotypical vacation photos with palace guards and Big Ben aren't enough for your Facebook.

1. The Newborn Baby Sculpture, St Martin the Fields, Westminster, London

A unique sculpture of a newborn baby appearing from the rock.

Notes:

2. Statue of Abraham Lincoln, Parliament Square, Westminster

The controversial statue of American legend Abraham Lincoln.

Notes:

3. Brixton Windmill, Blenheim Gardens, Brixton, London

A working mill from the twentieth century now fallen into disuse

Notes:

4. Alphabet Street, Middlesex Street, Aldgate

Location of artist Ben Eine's alphabet graffiti street

Notes:

5. Banksy Up the Wall, Pollard Street, Bethnal Green, London

This is where Banksy was first caught in the act.

Notes:

6. Don't be put off by the Name, 189 Wardour Street, Soho

Truly tasty and gives a good flavour of West Indian cooking

Notes:

7. The Blue House, Garner Street, Haggerston, London

This is one quirky example of great modern London architecture

Notes:

8. Lloyd's Building, 1 Lime Street, London

The famous Lloyd's building, full of architectural thrills!

Notes:

9. London's Capital Records, *One Kemble Street

Possible twin of the Capitol Records building in Los Angeles

Notes:

10. The Elephant and Castle Story, *Elephant and Castle, Southwark, London

The real story of why the Elephant and Castle are thus named.

Notes:

11. Just a Stones throw away, *Stepney Way

Since 1979, animals, fun and manure can be found here

Notes:

12. Highbury Mural, *18 Highbury Grove, Highbury, Islington

Lovely nature mural in Highbury.

Notes:

13. The Helter-Skelter, *22-24 Bishopsgate

A massive new skyscraper in the city with organic curves.

Notes:

14. What No Skies, *98 Finchley Road

A Swiss chalet with a bar in North London

Notes:

15. Canada Water Super-Library, *21 Surrey Quays Road, Rotherhithe

A trendy new super library for the Docklands.

Notes:

16. What Are You Looking At?, *Marble Arch subway, London

Classic Banksy stencil commentary on social CCTV anxiety.

Notes:

17. The Green Park, *Green Park, Mayfair

The only Royal Park in London with no buildings or lakes.

Notes:

18. The Maya's home from home, 94 Wandsworth Bridge Road

A small cultural centre dedicated to the Maya of Guatemala

Notes:

19. Battersea Sabotage, 188 Kirtling Street, Battersea

A classic London icon fuelled on Coal, Cinema and Redevelopment

Notes:

20. Climbing the Uxbridge Road, South Ealing Road, Ealing, London

This is where Climbing the North Face of the Uxbridge Road was.

Notes: