

Author: adrians

A tour of the key places in London where The Who played and which were formative for Daltrey and co.

1. Home to Keith Moon, Tara House, Saint Annes Hill

Home to the legendary 'Who' drummer Keith Moon

Notes:

2. Keith Moon died here, Flat 9, 12 Curzon Place, Mayfair, London

This is where Keith Moon overdosed in Harry Nilssons flat.

Notes:

3. Pete & John's First Band, St Mary's Road, Ealing, London

It was here that The Who founders first formed 'The Confederates

Notes:

4. Pete Townshend's Who Are You?, Margaret Street, London

This is where Pete Townshend drunken stupor inspired Who Are You

Notes:

5. Quadrophenia Party House, Clarendon Gardens, Wembley, London

The Quadrophenia house party scene was filmed here.

Notes:

6. The Who's Railway Hotel, Railway Approach, Wealdstone, Middlesex

The first gig The Who ever played was in The Railway Hotel here.

Notes:

7. The Goldhawk Social Club, 205 Goldhawk Road, Shepherd's Bush

One of The Who's early regular gigs in the early 1960's.

Notes: