The football (or soccer!) grounds of London (now and then, or here and gone!).

1. Selhurst Park, Whitehorse Lane, Croydon

Eric Cantona will never live his trip to Selhurst Park down.

Notes:

2. Arsenal's Emirates Stadium, Arsenal Emirates Stadium, Avenell Road

The home of Arsenal Football Club.

Notes:

3. Arsenal's Old Ground, Off Highbury Park Road

Once a footie ground, now a class place to live

Notes:

4. Fulham's Craven Cottage, Stevenage Road, Fulham

The oldest football stand in London is at Craven Cottage.

Notes:

5. Wimble-gone: Plough Lane, Plough Lane, Wimbledon

The former home of Wimbledon Football Club.

Notes:

6. To Dare is To Do, Bill Nicholson Way, 748 High Road, Tottenham

1st 20th Century club to win league and FA Cup in same season

Notes:

7. Olympics 2012: Main Stadium, Marshgate Lane, Stratford

The main Olympic Stadium for the 2012 London Olympics.

Notes:

8. The Real Cockney Boys, Boleyn Ground, Green Street, Upton Park

So what are the Hammers really called?

Notes:

9. Superhoops in the Bush, Loftus Road, South Africa Road, Shepherds Bush

A record 20 home game stadiums before Loftus Road called
